THE FALL OF PROPHET WIGGINS.

The fair fame of E. Stone Wiggins, professional prophet and almanac compiler, is blasted. He staked his reputation on clouds, and the unstable winds dispersed it. He has sunk into the oblivion that swallows up all false prophets, and his rival, Mr. Venuor, will perhaps take warning and go and sink likewise. The storm that was to sweep over this country vesterday; to make tin roofs writhe in anguish and the chimney-builder dance in glee, did not sweep—it was an unmitigated failure. The bright skies that overhung the city in the morning were cloudless at night, and the gitter of the stars held forth no promise of storm. At the Sigmal Service Bureau, in the Equitable building, there was an unaccustomed smile on every face. Even the unsumpathetic barometer yielded to the enthusiam of the office and predicted dry weather; the thermometer registered degrees of temperature that were unworthy of it. Observer Merril, when he found that Wiggins's predictions were not likely to be fulfilled, went to Washington on Thursday to congratulate General Hazen on the safety of the Bureau. When a Tribunz recorter last night asked the officer in charge what the chances were in favor of Wiggins's redeeming his reputation before morning, he chuckled, rubbed his hands together, and with an expansive smile, exclaimed, with a surprising disregard for the question, "Wiggins is left." This remark brought forth a shrie k of laughter from the office boy.

"Storm" observed the officer, "nonsense. Wiggins is a blank humbng. The weather has been, with the exception of six places, clear over the entire country, and it is likely to remain so for the next twenty-four hours. The temperature has fallen in northern Minnesota and has risen in Colorado and Dakota. The only parts of the country where rain has fallen are at Atlanta, Ga., where there was 42 of an inch of rain; at indianola, Texas, 01; Memphis, Tenn., .02; Marquette, Mich., 10; Memphis, Tenn., .02 of the country where there was a fall of 16° within twelve hour THE FALL OF PROPHET WIGGINS.

CORONER MERKLE'S REMARKABLE JURY.

Three ex-Mayors, Messis, Wickham, Ely and Grace, Townsend Cox and Charles E. Loew, were the only members of the distinguished jury summoned by Coroner Merkle in the Ketleber case who were present at the inquest yesterday. All the others had been excused by the Coroner, General Grant was let off on account of his having to meet Schor Romero on business connected with the Mexican commercial treaty. Jay Gould was suffering from facial neuralgia. Ex-Mayor Cooper was detained by important business. Henry Villard, ex-Senator Conking and Sheridan Shook were not in town, and A. Oakey Hall claimed his privilege as a lawyer. Dr. Baulthaus, John Peyser, Edward Hauser and General Schwartzwaeller were captured and placed on the jury, and the inquest begat.

The hist witness was John Conner, a helper or Respect in the alcohol ward at Bellevue Hospital. He gave an account of the killing of Kelleher, substantially agreeing with that published in The Triburg on Monday. Dr. Henry Kopink testified that he was house physician at Bellevue Hospital, and he gave the history of the case of Mahon, the man who did the killing. He admitted that Mahon was excited when he was brought to the hospital, but he did not consider him daugerous. He gave orders to have him placed in a cell, and that he should be watched all night. He did not know how he got out of the cell on the morning of the nurrier: he should not have been taken out without his (Dr. Kopink's) permission. Sometimes, the acctor said, three or four men are placed in one cell. The cells are 8 by 10 feet. James Connelley, the day orderly in charge of the cells, said that he night orderly, to whom the dector had given orders about the patient, Mahon, did not repeat them to him. It was decided that it was necessary to examine the night orderly before proceeding turther with the inquest, so it was adjourned until Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

A COMPLIMENT TO MRS. LOZIER.

The New York Medical College and Ho-pital for Women, in West Fifty-fourth-st., was presented yesterday afternoon with a lite-size portrait of its deta, Mrs. Dr. Clemence S. Lozier, by the members of the junn r class. At 4 p. m. the main lectare-room of the college was crowded with the friends of the institution, and when Mrs. L. Safford Gilespie, in behalf of her class, gave the picture to the college, it was received by Dr. L. L. Daniorth, one of the faculty. After the picture had been hung on one of the walls of the room, Mrs. Lozier rose and thanked her pupils. She also recited a poem upon the outles of women, which was received with great applainse. The Rev. Dr. John P. Newman made an address in which he referred to the life-long work of Mrs. Lozier in founding and helping to maintain the college, and he congratulated her upon the success that had rewarded her enterprise. After several re-intains by Thomas Whiford, of Brooklyn, the guests of the college were served with luncheon. Among the persons present were Drs. Amelia Wright, Ella Mauer, Williams, Burdett and Baker.

CURLING MATCHES AT CENTRAL PARK. CURLING MATCHES AT CENTRAL PARK.

The curling matches between the Thistle and the Manhattan Cribs, and the Cal-donian and the Jersey City Cribs, took place vesterday afternoon at Central Pars. The games began about 1 o clock, and the players entered on their work vigorously and enthusiastically. But the snow-ice softened very rapidly under the warm rays of the sun during the afternoon, and the play was difficult. The players were divided, two rinks being assigned to the small lake, and the remaining live to the large lake, a portion of which was fenced off for them. Al rge number of spectators gathered to watch the progress of the games, and the points were watched with interest. The Thistles and the Manhattans played five rinks, and the Caledonians and the Jersey City Club only three. The Thistle and Jersey City Club were victorious by scores of 119 to 101 and 63 to 44 respectively.

POLICEMEN IN SECRET CONCLAVE.

About seventy-five potteemen, including representatives from all the precincts in the city, assembled in secret council yesterday atternoon at the Germania Assembly Kooms, at Twenty-sixth-st, and Seventh-ave. One member of the force said to a Tribune reporter: "You see, it is unconstitutional to raise the salaries of men unless they have served a prescribed time. Now, we $500 a year men propose to resign so as to be reappointed immediately as experienced men on a salary of $1,200 a year. The Executive Committee of the Policemen's Endowment Fund says that it will be compelled, according to the constitution, to tax every member of the force 5 cents for the benefit of each member resigning. As there are 300 of us, the committee asserts that it would break up the fund, and we are discussing the best means of settling the difficulty." POLICEMEN IN SECRET CONCLAVE.

BURIED ACCORDING TO QUAKER RITES.

The funeral of Samuel Willets took place yesterday afternoon at the Friends' Meeting House in East Friteenth-st. The spacious room, both floor and galleries, was crowded, and the funeral was conducted according to the Quaker services. After the body had been brought in, there were a few moments of impressive silence, and then Thomas Foulke rose and made a short address, bearing testimony to the high character of Mr. Willets. Two other speakers followed, Samuel B. Haines and Robert flaviland. Among those present were President Edward H. Magiil, of Swarthmore College, accompanied by a deputation of the Board of Managers, of which Mr. Willets had been president, Nathaniel S. Merrit, William H. Macy, Charles Haight, Charles Griffin, John Howard Wright, and Jonathau Thorne. BURIED ACCORDING TO QUAKER RITES. Jonathan Thorne.

THE PLANS OF MACE AND SLADE.

THE PLANS OF MACE AND SLADE.

Mace and Slade were none the worse yesterday for their exhibition on Thursday night, and there were no evidences of the rumored disagreement between them and their backers. Mr. Fox attributed the smallness of the attendance at the Garden to the high prices and to the fear that a license had not been obtained, and that the police would again interfere. Next week the Mace and Slade combination will exhibit in Brooklyn and several neighboring towns, finishing up by another exhibition at the Madison Square Garden on Saturday night at popular prices.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE. GRAMMAR SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

About thirty boys, whose ages ranged from five to twenty-one years, met in one of the rooms of Grammar School No. 35, at No. 60 West Thirteenthst, yesterday afternoon and organized a Grammar School Baseball League. The following officers were elected: President, W. E. Cooke; vice-president, E. M. Kinner; secretary, Louis Finnel, and treasurer, W. J. Dikonson. After some discussion, the American Association rules were adopted. Nines representing the schools will play a series of games on Saturdays.

CASES OF MALIGNANT DIPHTHERIA.

The attention of a Sanitary Inspector was called yesterday to a fatal case of malignant diphtheria in the tenement house at No. 1 Second-st. Carl Sandstroem, a Swedish tailor, came to this city nine months ago with his wife and five children, and hired rooms in the house. Being unable to find much employment, his family suffered from want of proper food. His eldest child, a girl seven years old, died from diphtheria on Friday, a week ago. The other children were attacked with the disease also. One of the boys died on Monday and another on Weslnesday. An infant, a few months old, died on Thursday. It was said yesterday that another child was dying. A collection was being taken up by the neighbors yesterday to assist the unfortunate parents. As the disease is said to be of an unusually CASES OF MALIGNANT DIPHTHERIA.

malignant type, many persons were afraid to go uto the house. The building has been fumigated, and the bodies of the dead children have been buried privately.

MR. COLEMAN ON STREET-CLEANING.

The Committee on Street-Cleaning of the Board of Aldermen continued yesterday its investigation of the management of the Street-Cleaning Department. Commissioner Coleman testified that where lots had been filled in with street sweepings the Department had charged a certain amount per load. The money received was paid over to the Controller. M. J. Coleman, the chief clerk, received all money paid by contractors for street dirt and ashes for filling and made a report once a month of the amounts received. In reply to Alderman Rinckhoff Mr. Coleman said that it was ridiculous to suppose that dead dogs and goars and cats were used for filling lots. He thought that the streets were as clean as at the same time last year. The law under which the Department was created gave the Commissioner power to let out contracts for three years. He could not say whether contract work was cheaper in the end than day's labor. He had once offered to clean the streets of the city for nine months for $480,000. He knew of no favoritism being shown by foremen to street-sweepers. The foremen werefield responsible for the cleanliness of their respective districts.

JUSTICE FISHER'S SUCCESSOR. MR. COLEMAN ON STREET-CLEANING.

JUSTICE FISHER'S SUCCESSOR. JUSTICE FISHER'S SUCCESSOR.

Mayor Low, Controller Brinkerhoff and City Anditor Voege met yesterday in Brooklyn to appoint a a Police Justice for the Second District Court in that city, to succeed the late Francis B. Fisher, The Controller and Auditor had at last agreed, and the latter offered the name of Frederic S. Massey, who was recommended for the place by nearly all the judges of Brocklyn and other well-known citizens, including "Boss" McLaughlin. Mr. Massey was appointed by the votes of the Controller and Auditor, Mayor Low yoting for E. W. Ivins, a Democrat. The new Justice is a Democrat of the deepest dye and has never been suspected of thwarting the plans of "Ring" or "Boss" in the past. He is about forty-five years of age, and is a lawyer by profession. In 1869 he was appointed president of the Fire Department of Brooklyn, when it was first organized as a pand service, and held the place several years. In 1877 he was appointed one of the three Commissioners of City Works, his associates being J. W. Flaherty and George C. Bennett, who were afterward convicted of derranding the city by putting bogns names on the pay-roils of the department. Mr. Massey is a well known sportsman.

SHALL THE NAVY YARD BE SOLD?

The Naval Commission, composed of Commodore S. B. Luce. Chief Engineer C. H. Loring and exArchitect A. B. Mullett, held a public meeting in the office of Mayor Low, in Brooklyn, yesterday, to hear opinions in regard to the advisability of selling or keeping the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Among the few present were Demas Strong, ex-Mayor Hunter, F. Scholes, ex-Aldermen Baird and Malcom, S. M. Ostrander and John H. Burtis. Mayor Low presided. Most of those present thought that the sentiment in favor of the removal of the yard was not strong, but that the unoccupied land between the Navy Yard proper and the Naval Hospital was needed. The only one who spoke in favor of the sale of the yard was S. M. Ostrander. Mayor Low thought the city would be as well of if the yard was used for commercial purposes. SHALL THE NAVY YARD BE SOLD?

CAPTAINS OPPOSED TO POLICE MATRONS At the request of Police Commissioner Mason, all of the captains sent to him their opinions regarding of the captains sent to him their opinions regarding the employment of matrons in the police stations. With the exception of Captain Leary, of the City Hall Police, all the captains were opposed to it. It was said by them that few female prisoners were searched in the stations, and none by men. No respectable woman, it was declared, would consent to serve as a matron and submit to the abuse and vile language of the deprayed women who were prisoners in the stations. Copies of the captains' opinions will be sent to Albany.

TEMPLE SCENE IN THE PASSION PLAY. TEMPLE SCENE IN THE PASSION PLAY.

The temple scene in the Passion Play was set last evening for the first time, and there was a stage relicarsal of the part of the drama in which it is used. The scene not only fills the forward part of the stage but extends back to Twenty-fourth-st. The pillars of the temple are seen in distinct perspective and the landscape shows faintly beyond. The effect is very line. Mr. Morse says that he will be ready to play his drama two days after the license is granted.

A MEMBER OF THE 11TH REGIMENT IN TROUBLE. A disturbance took place in the Sultan Divan, a music garden in the Bowery, when Henry Whelan, of No. 99 Eldridge-st., was shot in the neck. Charles Parks, age twenty-one, of King-bridge, was arrested. He had a scalp wound on the right side of his head, and a revolver was found in his pocket, one chamber of which had been discharged. Parks was identified by the wounded man as his assailant. When taken to the Essex Market Police Court yesterday he wore the uniform of the 11th Regiment, and denied all knowledge of the shooting. He stated that he had been struck with a bottle on the head. He was committed to await the result of Whelan's injuries, who is now in St. Vincent's Hospital.
